

NATIONAL SUPPLY CHAIN INTEGRITY MONTH

April is “National Supply Chain Integrity Month.” During the month, the Department of Defense, the Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency (CISA), the Office of the Director of National Intelligence (ODNI), and other government and industry partners will promote a call to action campaign to raise awareness of supply chain threats and mitigation efforts.

Kick the month off by participating in the Center for Development of Security Excellence (CDSE) two supply chain webinars. If you miss either webinar, you will have another chance to view them once they are posted in our webinar archive. We will put a notice in the Flash when both webinars are available online.

Supply Chain Past, Present, and Future 2022
Thursday, April 7, 2022
12:00 – 1:00 p.m. ET

In this webinar, FBI Supervisory Special Agent Matt Halvorsen, representing NCSC, went in-depth on recent Supply Chain Executive Orders and what they mean for the future of Supply Chain integrity. Register today at <https://www.cdse.edu/Training/Webinars-and-Conferences/>.

Microelectronics and Supply Chain 2022
12:00 – 1:00 p.m. ET

In this webinar, Dr. McCants will go in-depth on microelectronics issues and concerns, practical steps the security community can take, and what we need to be aware of to secure the microelectronics supply chain.
